

The Arunachal Times

Saturday 05 June 2010

CEC to join governor in World Environment Day celebration

ITANAGAR, June 4: Arunachal Pradesh Governor Gen JJ Singh crusading towards Cleaner, Greener and Plastic free Arunachal Pradesh will be joined by the Chief Election Commissioner Navin B Chawla in the World Environment Day celebration at Sinki View, Itanagar tomorrow.

Chawla, who is on a two-day visit to the State, will also visit the Bamboo Processing Centre at Poma on the day.

Itanagar Deputy Commissioner Padmini Singla said, in an endeavour to inculcate clean environment habits amongst the denizens, effort is there to include all in programme. All together, 800 seedlings from eleven species, including Bohera, Bokul, Jamun, Bogi Poma, Camper, Arjun, Lali Poma and Gold mohar will be planted on the day. Students from different schools, security personnel, NGOs including North East Development Welfare Society will be taking part. (Contd. P-3)

CEC to join governor...

(From P-1) It may be noted, at the initiative of the Governor, Muskan Welfare Society led by the State First Lady Anupama Singh organized a plantation programme on August 16 last in which large number of native tree species were planted in the Raj Bhawan complex making the area a manifestation zone featuring all economical viable and important trees of Arunachal Pradesh. PRO to Raj Bhawan