PRESS RELEASE

Every action of yours must be oriented to improve the quality of life for the poor: Governor

The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Brig. (Dr.) B.D. Mishra (Retd.) interacted with the Arunachal Pradesh Civil Service probationers at Raj Bhavan, Itanagar on 15th November 2017.

The Governor said that the administrative officers are the main stay of the government and they have an important role to ensure good governance. They must evince transparency and accountability in their actions and decisions. He said that their objective should be to serve the public and work in people's interest, which is the very essence of democracy.

The Governor advised them to have long term perspective and keep national interest supreme in discharging their duties.

Sharing his experiences with the APCS Batch of 2016, the Governor advised them to always act in public interest and ensure that the benefits of Government's development plans reach the last man on the last rung of the society.

People judge bureaucrats by their actions and every action of yours must be oriented to improve the quality of life for the poor, he stressed.

Secretary to Governor Shri Vinod P. Kavle and Director, Administrative Training Institute, Shri Pate Marik were present in the meeting amongst others.
