Governor conveys May Day greetings

Governor appeals to all Arunachalis to observe all the precautions against COVID-19

The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Brig. (Dr.) B. D. Mishra (Retd.) has conveyed his warm greetings and good wishes to all the citizens of the State, particularly, the workers, both men and women on the occasion of the International Day of Labour.

In his message to the people, the Governor said that International Labour Day, also known as International Workers' Day or May Day is observed every year to promote the welfare of the workers wherever they may be and encourage the employers and international labour associations for the amelioration of the workers' milieu. The day marks the importance of workers' movement for the much needed improvement in their working terms and conditions, he said.

The Governor complimented all workers in all lands for their contribution to structural, economic and social progresses all over the world. The development of all institutions and the people is the direct result of the sweat and toil of the workers. It is the tireless work and service of the workers, which delivers gains, comfort and wellbeing in all fields. On account of the diligence and dedication of the countless workers, the society, the country, the domain of all living creatures and the environment are being shaped. For their role the workers deserve our gratitude, he said.

On this day, let us acknowledge the sacrifices of the workers and compliment them for helping the country and the people in all walks of life, the Governor said.

On the occasion, the Governor also appealed to all Arunachalis to observe all the precautions against COVID-19 and help the society in checking the spread of the deadly virus.
